Objectives:

The project will cover the organisation of the series of two events defined as TandemAERODays19.20. The first event of the series will take place in Romania/Bucharest at the end of April 2019, under the EU presidency of Romania. The event will be hosted at the Palace of Parliament for three days, followed by one day with optional visits to prestigious Romanian research centres (INCAS, COMOTI) and aeronautics industries (ROMAERO, IAR Brasov, ...).

The second event of the series will take place in Germany/Berlin at the end of May 2020 being planned to link the AERODays with the International Air Show ILA 2020 and the Berlin aviation summit - as a marketing platform for innovation and new technologies. The event is also understood as an event to link the Croatian with the German council presidency.

The TandemAERODays19.20 is expected to attract more than 1000 visitors for both events from across Europe and world-wide, and will strongly support the aviation and aeronautics sector, both with respect to technological knowledge transfer and networking with regard to the transport sector as a whole.

The Tandem AERODays will disseminate results and demonstrations from flagship programmes in the aviation sector, such as CleanSky, SESAR, Future Sky and will also encompass social and networking activities to stimulate future collaborations within the future FP9. Not least, the TandemAERODays19.20 will focus on conveying successfully the message of efficient EU aeronautics R&T through relevant media channels.
